

Terms and Conditions for Participation in General Academic Seminar
" Physicochemical Methods in Scientific Research "

1. General

1. The main organizer of the Seminar is the Department of Physical Pharmacy at the Faculty of Pharmaceutical Sciences of the Medical University of Silesia in Katowice, which reserves the right to appoint co-organizers for the event.
2. The Seminar will occur at the location, on the date, and in the format specified by the Organizer. The Organizer reserves the right to change the format of the Seminar no later than 5 days before the seminar begins.
3. The number of spots at the Seminar is limited to 100. Acceptance of participants is determined by the order in which applications are received and the Scientific Committee's evaluation of the abstract's content. The organizers reserve the right to change the number of spots available for participants.
4. Participants in the Seminar are academic researchers, doctoral students, undergraduates, and individuals with academic or professional experience in the seminar's subject area.
5. The Seminar may include oral speech and poster sessions, as well as exhibitions or presentations by Co-organizers, Exhibitors, and Sponsors.
6. Every participant in the Seminar will receive a certificate of participation in the Seminar.
7. The rules for personal data collection are included in the registration form.

2. Registration for the Seminar

1. In order to participate in the Seminar, Participants are required to register.
2. To register for the Seminar, please complete and submit the registration form available on the event's website: www.seminariumogolnoakademickie.sum.edu.pl.
3. The deadline for submitting applications to participate in the Seminar is the date specified by the Organizer. The Organizer reserves the right to change the application deadline.
4. The organizer is not responsible for any incorrect or false information provided by a Participant on the registration form.
5. Submission of a registration form indicates acceptance of the provisions of these Rules and Regulations, as well as compliance with applicable laws and any other written agreements between the Participant and the Organizer.
6. By submitting their registration for the Seminar, Participants voluntarily consent to the processing of their personal data (in accordance with applicable GDPR regulations) for the purposes of conducting the Seminar and related procedures, as well as for the publication of the abstract book, and they accept the Seminar Rules and Regulations. In addition, participants express their consent to the publication of their likeness in a photo gallery from the Seminar, which will be posted on the Seminar's website, the website of the Medical University of Silesia in Katowice, and other media after the event has concluded.

3. Participation in the Seminar

1. Participation in the Seminar is free and optional.
2. Participants should indicate on the registration form available at www.seminariumogolnoakademickie.sum.edu.pl whether they intend to give an oral speech or a poster presentation.
3. The start date for registration for the Seminar and for submitting abstracts will be announced on the event's website: www.seminariumogolnoakademickie.sum.edu.pl and on other social media platforms.
4. Abstracts submitted to the Seminar may contain up to five authors. The number of authors for a presentation may be increased upon receiving approval from the Organizers. Requests to increase the maximum number of authors must be submitted in writing to seminariumogolnoakademickie@sum.edu.pl.
5. The Seminar's Scientific Committee, after reviewing the abstract, will ultimately decide on the format of the Participant's presentation format. If the proposed presentation format is not approved, the Participant will be notified of the decision by email.
6. The duration of oral speech and poster presentations will be announced at a later date on the Seminar's website: www.seminariumogolnoakademickie.sum.edu.pl and on other social media platforms, but no later than 14 days before the scheduled date of the event. Oral speeches and scientific posters will be evaluated by the Seminar's Scientific Committee using a designated evaluation form.
7. A participant may withdraw from the Seminar no later than 7 days before the Seminar start date. A participant's withdrawal from the Seminar must be submitted in writing (via email) to seminariumogolnoakademickie@sum.edu.pl.
8. The book of abstracts will be provided to participants in electronic form.
9. The electronic abstract book will be assigned an ISBN number. Participants will be informed of the terms and conditions and the deadline for submitting papers via the website: www.seminariumogolnoakademickie.sum.edu.pl and other social media platforms (if applicable).

4. Safety Rules

1. Each Participant should read the Rules and Regulations for Participation in the General Academic Seminar "Physicochemical Methods in Scientific Research". Ignorance of the Rules and Regulations does not exempt a Participant from the obligation to comply with them.
2. Seminar Participants declare that they have no symptoms suggestive of a viral infection and agree to notify the Organizers if such symptoms develop within the next few days following the Seminar.
3. Seminar Participants are required to behave in a manner that does not endanger the safety of other people attending the event, and to comply with health and safety regulations and fire safety regulations in effect at the facilities where the Seminar and other related activities that are part of the event are held.
4. The Participant assumes liability for any damage caused by him or her on the Seminar venue, in particular liability for damage to property or injury to individuals who are employees, doctoral students, and students of the Medical University of Silesia in Katowice, as well as other Seminar Participants and employees of the University.
5. The Organizers are not liable for any damages resulting
6. from a Participant's failure to comply with these Rules and Regulations, or from failure to follow the recommendations and instructions of the staff responsible for the Participant's safety.
7. The Organizers are not responsible for items left on the Seminar venue or during activities related to the Seminar.

8. The Seminar Organizers and the University's Security Staff, in the event that a Participant disrupts public order, have the right to issue a verbal warning to the Participant or to detain the Participant on the Seminar premises until the police arrive, if the Participant, despite warnings, continues to behave in a manner that jeopardizes the safety and order of the event.

5. Disclaimer

1. Sessions in which Participants serve as presenters are closed-door events, and only Participants who have registered via the form may attend.
2. The seminar does not constitute a mass event as defined in the Act of March 23, 2009, on the Safety of Mass Events (Journal of Laws of the Republic of Poland - Dz.U. 2009 nr 62, poz. 504).
3. In cases not covered by these Rules, the provisions of the Civil Code shall apply.
4. The Organizer reserves the right to modify the provisions of these Rules and Regulations. Any changes take effect on the date they are posted on www.seminariumogolnoakademickie.sum.edu.pl and other social media platforms.
5. The provisions of these Rules and Regulations constitute an integral part of the application to participate in the Seminar and are binding on all Participants.
6. The Organizers are not responsible for the content of oral and poster presentations, nor for the content of the post-conference proceedings.